(S) NATIONAL RECONNAISSANCE OFFICE

WASHINGTON, D.C.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

9 January 1987

MEMORANDUM FOR ACTING DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCESUBJECT: National Reconnaissance Office Inspector General

As Mr. Casey and I have previously discussed, I advised the Congress and the Secretary of Defense of my intent to establish an independent inspector general office within the National Reconnaissance Office (NRO) reporting directly to me as the Director, NRO. Mr. Hill discussed with you a proposed NRO directive establishing this office. A copy is attached for your information. In addition, I have also established an NRO secure fraud, waste, and abuse hotline.

In summary, I intend for the NRO Inspector General (IG) office to oversee all inspections, audits, and investigations of NRO activities by the CIA as well as the Air Force and Navy.

The NRO has grown to the point where some degree of centralized review is needed to provide us with assurance that the NRO is continuing to meet its goals with the same high degree of competence that has been evident in the past. I believe that this can be accomplished with little or no change in audits and inspections presently conducted by the CIA.

I would appreciate your dissemination of the attached document to the Agency's Inspector General. I am convinced that the interrelationship between the NRO IG and the CIA IG will not only be productive, but it will allow an across-the-board review of the entire National Reconnaissance Office's programs and operations.

E. C. Aldridge, Jr.
